Presenter Descriptions

Speed Art Museum

The Speed Art Museum will present a workshop on art. Learn about important aspects of art history and art activities you can incorporate into your programming this summer to bring the arts to life for young people.

The Speed Art Museum was established in 1927 and is Kentucky's oldest and largest art museum with over 12,000 pieces in its permanent collection. Its extensive collection spans 6,000 years, ranging from ancient Egyptian to contemporary art. The Speed also houses paintings, sculpture, furniture, and decorative arts by Kentucky artists and created for Kentuckians. Through Family Art Sparks studios, the museum brings current exhibitions and art activities to life for many children.

Ted Nathanson

Louisville artist and educator Ted Nathanson will share strategies and hands-on examples for using art as a vehicle in storytelling and self expression workshops. Participants will discover ways to get around the dreaded 'I can't____', and get straight to 'I never knew I could'. Using inexpensive materials, simple techniques, and innovative approaches, learn how to create programs that foster the development of creativity, collaboration, and critical thinking.

Susan Moore

Susan Moore, formerly of the Louisville Free Public Library, is currently Principal Librarian of Adult Services for the San Diego County Library. Susan will help you discover all the ways to "Be Creative" with library programs, books, websites and media related to summer reading theme. Explore ideas for programs; interactive and "do it yourself" activities to "be creative" anytime, anywhere. Collaborate and hear practical ideas for how to build partnerships to enhance summer reading participation.

Squallis Puppeteers

Jess Myers of Squallis Puppeteers will present training on incorporating puppetry into children's programming. Learn tips on using puppets to accentuate storytelling, literacy, and audience participation. Also learn how children can use puppets to explore character, recreate stories and engage in creative play.

Nikole Wolfe

Nikole Wolfe will share ideas for engaging teens this summer in the "Express Yourself" summer reading theme. Whether it's through creative writing, drama, painting, music, etc., you'll learn about books, websites, and other media to help teens express themselves artistically.

Book exhibits—Books for children and teens as well as professional tools for librarians.

Food— A boxed lunch will be provided by the café at the Speed Art Museum. Please select a sandwich choice when you register for the workshops. We will not provide refreshments for morning and afternoon breaks. Feel free to bring your own drinks and snacks.

Parking— Parking is available in the Speed's parking garage.

Certification—Six contact hours for certification renewal will be earned by those who attend one morning and one afternoon session. Full training can be received by attending any morning and any afternoon session—either in one full day or by arriving for the afternoon session beginning at 1:00 p.m. on Wednesday or Thursday (not Friday), spending the night, and finishing at noon the following day.
